STATE COLLEGE RADIO STATION IS NOW BROADCASTING REGULARLY

BELIEVED MOST POWERFUL IN NEW ENGLAND

WABL, Operated by D. E. Noble, Has Already Been Heard as Far West as Chicago and as Far South as Virginia.—In Kentucky the Signals are Reported Strong.—Station Will be Formally Opened on November 16.

That Connecticut's radio broadcasting station, WABL, is making itself heard in the world is evident from the number of reports from listeners who have "sat in" during the times that Operator D. E. Noble has been testing the set in preparation for its use as the official broadcasting station of the college.

A large number of replies from all the nearby states and many distant ones, a total of seventeen different states, have been received so far, telling with what strength and clearness the signals were received. The farthest western report is from Chicago, while from Virginia comes the furthest southern report. Numerous provinces in Canada have reported hearing Connecticut's signals. Many of those who replied state that it is the first time they have heard a Connecticut station.

The replies indicate, according to Mr. Noble, that the college station is getting into what are known as "dead spots", places where other New England stations have not been able to make themselves heard. The statement has been made, although not authentically, that Connecticut has the most powerful broadcasting station in New England.

Report Strong Signals

All of the reports received state that the signals were strong, and in most cases very clear. A reply from Pewee Valley, Kentucky, states the following: "Have heard your station a number of times lately and wish to inform you that your signal strength is very strong." A report from Chicago says that the signals "came in very well last night." From Lewiston, Maine, comes a reply from a listener who evidently has been "listening in" for signals from the north pole expedition, for he says, "The way your power went by here, MacMillan got a good concert."

COLLEGE LIBRARY GROWING RAPIDLY

18500 VOLUMES AT PRESENT

New Assistant to Handle Reference Work Added to Staff.—Room Being Fixed in Main Building.

A great deal of money has been spent to give the Connecticut Agricultural College such a well equipped Library as we have here. It has collected 18,500 volumes and subscribes to 100 periodicals. These periodicals are among the best of their class; technical, agricultural and literary. The library also receives fifteen daily papers from the larger nearby cities such as New York, Boston, Worcester, Springfield and Hartford.

This library has grown so fast in the last few years that its present location is not large enough and men are already fixing new shelves and a reading room in the basement of the main building to be used for the agricultural records, and similar papers. When this room is completed there will be ample room for library work.

All books, magazines and papers in the library are free to everybody but preference is given to professors and students. A new assistant has been

STATE COLLEGE PLAYERS APPEAR NOVEMBER 9

"The Importance of Being Ernest" to be Presented to Local Audience

On Friday evening, November 9, the State College Players will present Oscar Wilde's popular farce "The Importance of Being Ernest." Aside from being amusingly interesting, the play is one which contains the best English dialogue ever produced on the modern stage. The scene is laid in that section of England where society is at its height. Most of the players have had previous experience in dramatics and those in charge expect the play to be a great success. Phyllis Smith is taking the part of Cecily Cardew and Lawrence Parker, Milton Moore, Sybil Wilson and Pauline Girard compose the remainder of the cast.

AG CLUB OPENS YEAR WITH BIG MEETING

FACULTY MEMBERS SPEAK

Plans Outlined for Year.—Advantages of Organization Discussed.—Subscription Campaign in Near Future.

On Thursday night, the opening meeting of the "Ag" Club was held in Main 7, with an attendance of over fifty. Due to the absence of its officers, participating as members of the judging teams, the annual introductory meeting was delayed. Following a short business meeting, speeches were delivered by the following members of the Faculty: Professor A. W. Manchester, President C. L. Beach, Dr. E. W. Sinnott, Professor R. E. Dodge and Professor R. C. Fisher.

These speakers clearly outlined the value of an agricultural club to the students and faculty, and the opportunities afforded members of this activity. Professor Manchester stated, "This is the only body on the Hill in which a group voluntarily meets for the promotion of general agriculture. It is the organization where men may best train themselves for sound leadership." "Training in the "Ag" Club is similar to class instruction, yet it enables students to gain a broader, less specialized viewpoint," said President Beach. "There is a real place for the Club here and every student should be in it, backing its ideals." He suggested that the "Ag" Club take up the matter of financing the various judging teams. Dr. Sinnott pointed out that the "Ag" Club promotes a professional spirit and reasoning power for attacking problems not obtainable in the classroom. One of the greatest functions of the Club is its contribution to a better understanding between the students and faculty, a privilege not enjoyed by other activities to such an extent. "Here the three qualities of a leader: optimism, enthusiasm and education may be broadened," said Professor Dodge. The last speaker maintained that definite objects tie together and increase the members of the club.

The whole meeting was characterized by keen attention, a genuine interest in the cause and welfare of the Adopting the suggestion of the "Campus", the trustees of the Storrs Community Church have set aside Sunday, November 11, which is Armistice Day, as "Go-to-Church" Sunday. On this day every member of the student body and every resident of Storrs is urged to cast aside all other interests for an hour and go to church.

Partly Memorial Service

Since it is the fifth anniversary of the signing of the armistice, students should attend church not only for religious motives, but out of respect to the Americans who died in the World War. The church service, in charge of Rev. Marshall Dawson, one of the foremost preachers in the country, will be tinged with a strain of sympathy and love for those men.

In order to have an interval of silent prayer preceding the service, everyone should be at the church by five minutes to eleven.

Publicity for the occasion is in the hands of E. I. Collins, '25, managing editor of the "Campus", who conceived the idea. Fraternities, class presidents, faculty, extension service, and the Students' Organization are being asked to back up the plan and ask the members of their groups to be in the "Church on the Campus" Armistice Day.

FRESHMAN WIN AGAIN DEFEAT NAUGATUCK

SCORE 12 TO 0

Reeves and Andrew Play Brilliantly—
Contest Hard Fought Throughout.

Playing their best game of the year last Saturday the Freshman football sent the strong Naugatuck High School eleven down to their first defeat of the year and the second in two years by the score of 12 to 0. The Aggie youngsters displayed a far better game than they did a week before at New Britain and in doing so upset the predictions of Waterbury newspapers that the Naugatuck team would have an easy time winning from the freshmen.

Ryan Blocks Kick

The game was hard fought throughout the four quarters and the high school goal line was not crossed until the last period of the game. The first score of the game came when Ryan blocked a Naugatuck punt, the pig-skin bounding back of the "Naugy" goal line where Glazier fell upon the ball. Andrew failed to kick for the extra point. The second score came after Andrew had carried the ball to the Naugatuck two yard line. "Cooky" Reeves took the ball over the line on the next play for the final score of the game, Andrew again failing to kick for the extra point.

The bright spots of the game were the brilliant gains by Reeves and Andrew, Reeves never failing to gain when given the ball. Schofield, an old rival of Naugatuck played his usually brilliant game at quarterback. In the line Capt. Zollin was a tower of strength as were Raymond and Lorentzen.

Andrew, Lorentzen and Schofield were familiar figures on the Naugatuck field, Andrew and Lorentzen having been members of the Naugatuck team last year, while Schofield had been in action before against the Naugatuck eleven as a member of the Crosby High team, arch rivals of Naugatuck.

AGGIES GETTING IN TRIM FOR CITY COLLEGE TUSSLE

Alumni Homecoming Day.—Dole Trying to Cut Out Backfield Fumbling.

After the defeat at Norwich last week, Coach Dole is putting his eleven through several stiff practices this week. The City College game Saturday promises to be a close fight, even though the New Yorkers are not rated as strong as most of the other teams played this season.

Hobart defeated City College, 7 to 0, last Saturday, and the week before that they defeated Trinity by a much larger score, so it is expected that the Aggies will have a strong team opposing them on Gardner Dow Field this afternoon. Not much is known of the City College players, but from rumors they have a backfield that will have to be watched.

It is expected that the Nutmeggers will go on the field with much the same line-up as last week. Captain O'Neil will play his position as roving center. Nanfeldt and Maxon Eddy will hold down the tackle positions, and Brink and Dunn will occupy the wings. E. Eddy, Swem, Baylock and Moreland will remain in their berths in the back field, with Filmer and White to be called upon if it is necessary.

Coach Dole has been working hard on the backfield this past week. He has been trying to eliminate the fumbling which helped lose the game at Norwich last Saturday. He is aiming towards a harder-hitting backfield, one with a mightier punch at the crucial moments.

The day has been set aside for an alumni reunion, and with the added attractions of the Conn.-Rhody freshman game and the Varsity Club Dance in the evening, many "old grads" are expected on the sidelines.

DRAMATIC CLUB ADMITS EIGHT TO MEMBERSHIP

Seven Freshmen and One Junior on List.—Tryouts Held Under Directions of Theta Alpha Phi.

The Dramatic Club held its first tryouts of the year during the past week and eight successful candidates have been accepted into the club. A large number presented themselves before the tryout committee, which is composed of the members of Theta Alpha Phi, the honorary dramatic fraternity and the following were those admitted—Misses Tenney, Wilson and Braughel and E. J. Kelly, Donald Young, J. J. Morgan, H. R. Hope and A. J. Hodge.

SIDELINES

Never again will we turn prophet. At that, our predictions were correct—each game resulted in a two touchdown score. However, Norwich got them instead of the varsity at Northfield, Vt.

But the frosh made their twin counters against Naugatuck!

However, dope is no good unless it is spilled occasionally.

"An undefeated freshman team" is the Aggie battle-cry.

Only two games more for the yearlings—but both of them count!

Coach Dole has been giving the varsity a stiff drill this week!

Looks bad for City College.

We need a strong defensive against the forward pass to break up St. Stephen's passing attack a week from today.

The "Saints" completed 12 overhead haves for approximately 360 yards against Worcester Tech last week.

And it was a pass which was in the air while the last whistle blew that tied the game for them against Connecticut last year.

Only 300 rooters needed to make the "Aggie Special" a certainty.

Let's go to "Rhody" in style—as usual.

Looks like two victories, though both games should be tough battles.

That the government's policy of restrictive immigration can act as a barrier to foreigners seeking an education in America, is illustrated in a situation recently developed at Ellis Island. An Englishman by the name of Scott from London wanted to take the physical training course at the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College. The college admitted him, but upon arrival at Ellis Island, it was learned that he was in excess of the quota allowed from his country, and he is now at Ellis Island awaiting the decision of the immigration authorities.

FUMBLES COST GAME AGAINST NORWICH UNIV.

EACH SCORE RESULT OF
FUMBLE BY THE AGGIES

Blue and White Makes a Poor Showing and Team is Especially Weak on the Offense.

Constant fumbling by the Aggie backfield, combined with overconfidence on the part of the entire team, cost the Aggie a victory Saturday at Northfield, Vermont, when the Norwich University eleven took the Connecticut team into camp by a 13 to 0 score. The enforced layoff of last week because of the heavy rains that flooded Gardner Dow Field was no doubt to blame for much of the fumbling.

Aggies Fumble Punts

Norwich kicked off to the Aggies, who brought the ball to the thirty yard line. Three plays gained nine yards for the Blue and White, and then Moreland kicked to Bradley, who was downed in his tracks on the Norwich twenty yard line. Norwich was unable to gain and kicked. The punt was fumbled and Norwich recovered but again was unable to gain and punted. Again the Aggies fumbled the punt and Norwich recovered. After trying several forward passes, all of which were blocked, Bradley kicked a drop kick from the twenty yard line which cleared the bar by about an inch. Score: Norwich 3, Aggies 0.

Norwich again kicked off to the Aggies, and after several plays Moreland kicked back to Captain Bradley. Norwich was forced to kick and recovered the ball on an Aggie fumble on the forty yard line. Here Bradley put over a long placement kick for three more points on the Vermonters' score. The kick was a beautiful boot from the forty-eight yard line, which sailed high in the air and dropped so close to the bar that most of the spectators didn't know whether it cleared or not. Score, Norwich 6; Aggies 0.

From this point on the Aggies had the advantage, gaining much more ground than Norwich, but each time falling short of a score. Three times Norwich intercepted forward passes that if completed would have scored for Connecticut. In the last few minutes of the game an exchange of punts gave the Aggies the ball on their own ten yard line, and Norwich recovered an Aggie fumble within several yards of the line, from which point Rosenthal took the ball over for a touchdown. Captain Bradley kicked

Gronberg out with Injuries.—Otherwise All Regulars will Start.—
Rhody has Strong Team and Game
Promises to be Close.

With two victories, two tie games and no defeats to their credit, "Lou" Alexander's football gladiators will play their most important game of the year Saturday when they take on the yearling team from Rhode Island. The game will be the first in the football history of the two colleges when freshmen teams have clashed and the Aggie freshmen are out to make this first game a Connecticut victory.

Same Lineup

The yearling team came out of the Naugatuck game without injuries and the men who started that game will probably be the ones to start in Saturday's game. Gronberg, a halfback, has not recovered from injuries received earlier in the season and will not be able to get into the game. Andrew has been hampered this week with an infected foot but it is believed that he will be ready when the first whistle blows Saturday. Lorentzen has also been out of practice for a day or two with an injured ankle but will be set for the game.

"Dada" Daly, who has been playing a great game at center, will start the game at his regular position. Dawson and Lorentzen will start the game as guards with O'Connor and Clark ready to jump into the fray at any moment. Captain Zollin and Ryan, the two trusty tackles, will start with the first whistle. Coach Alexander will have Glazier, Bunis and Flaxman to pick from as ends to start the game. "Billy" Schofield will call signals and "Cooky" Reeves will be at full back. Andrew and Palmer will hold down the halfback positions, with Andrew ready to do the kicking.

Rhody is reported to have a fast freshman team and the first clash between the two freshman teams should be a close struggle. As yet Connecticut's yearling eleven is undefeated.

BOXING CLUB FORMED BY THE SOPHOMORES

Workouts Held Two Nights a Week—
Captain C. R. Crim Acting as Instructor.

During the past week a boxing club has been formed on the Hill by several energetic members of the sophomore class and drills in the manly art are being held semi-weekly in the Armory. Although the organization is yet in its infancy and composed of sophomores only, it is expected that all students interested will be asked to join. Captain C. R. Crim has been secured to act as instructor and the work has been going on for several nights. At the present time fifteen men are receiving lessons in the fundamentals of battling in the "squared circle."

VARSITY CLUB DANCE

From time to time throughout the year many social events occur on the Hill. These are given under the supervision of the various organizations or classes and are frequently for the purpose of raising money for some worthy cause.

Such will be the dance given by the Varsity Club on Saturday night. Money realized from this affair will be used in purchasing emblems for the letter men who are to graduate this year. If the affair is to be a success it should be attended by all those who are in a position to do so. Forget the trip to Willi this week and stay on the Hill to a good dance and at the same time do your share in helping to give the letter men an award for their work which they have done for Connecticut.

FOOTBALL HOP

The first formal dance of the year will be the Football Hop and for the benefit of the freshmen it might be said that if they do miss this affair they will be on the outside of one of the major events of the year. No new men can possibly realize what a good dance it is unless he has attended one. Take a tip from those who know and plan to go now.

Aside from the enjoyment which should seal your determination to attend there is another matter to be considered. The affair is given under the auspices of the Athletic Association and all proceeds will be used by that body in improving conditions which pertain to athletics. There are many channels into which this money can be turned and all of them will benefit greatly by such an aid. So while many of the social affairs are purely for enjoyment several of them are given for a dual purpose and all those who can should do their part in making them a success.

SCIENCE DEAN AUTHOR OF NEW TEXT BOOK

Dr. E. W. Sinnott Brings Out New
Botany Books for Use in College Courses.

"Botany: Principles and Problems" is the title of a book by Dr. Edmond W. Sinnott, dean of the Division of Science, which was published last September by the McGraw-Hill Company of New York. It is a brief presentation of the essential facts which should find their place in an elementary course in college botany. The whole treatment is a study of the plant as a functioning structure. Special attention is given to such topics as the soil, the plant and its environment, and the problems presented in heredity, variation and evolution. The lists of "Questions for Thought and Discussion" and of "Reference Problems" at the end of each chapter contain many practical applications of botanical theory to agricultural problems.

The book has so far been adopted as a text in about twenty-five institutions, among which are the Universities of Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Arizona and New Hampshire, Syracuse University, Colgate University, Rutgers College, Bates College, and the Agricultural Colleges of Oregon and Colorado.

DR. GREGORY ZUIHLBURG
SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

States in Substance that Europe's Degeneracy Requires American Initiative.

"We—Mephisto's Glance into the Future," was the subject of the speaker, Dr. Gregory Zuihlburg, at Assembly Hour, October 31. The impression he wished to convey was that the burden of responsibility for the success of the future rests almost entirely upon the youth of America.

Dr. Zuihlburg told of the conditions in institutions of learning all over Europe today. Students are unable to buy sufficient food to keep their bodies properly nourished; are unable to purchase text books from which to study. One student in Berlin obtained his lesson by going to various bookstores, inquiring about a book, and under the pretext of inspecting its contents copying the desired material. Investigators are unable to properly conduct their research work. Dr. Spellman, a noted brain specialist, has not enough money to purchase needed stains and instruments.

He decried the fact that Europe today is unconsciously in a state of the survival of the fittest. There is a growing worship of strength. The world may be more peaceful today than six years ago but the standing armies of the various powers are greater now than before the war.

Looking into the future, the speaker expressed a hope that the survival of the fittest might be changed from the usual sense of physical fitness to one counting moral and mental fitness. This is possible by everyone having faith in humanity. Once this faith becomes established, it will result in a new spirit of unity.

COMMISSIONER MEREDITH
SPEAKS ON EDUCATION

The first of several speakers obtained for various dates throughout the year by the Woman's Club of Storrs, was Mr. A. B. Meredith, State Commissioner of Education, who spoke in the Armory last Monday night on the progress of education. Mr. Meredith believes that this is an age of revision, when the very foundations of educational methods are being re-examined.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

By a new ruling which is in effect for the first time this year, juniors and seniors at Princeton are no longer required to attend classes and lectures and unlimited absences are allowed them, if their studies do not suffer in consequence.

This plan of permitting a student to decide whether he shall attend a class or not has existed in foreign universities for some time, but Princeton is the first institution of any size in America to adopt it. It assumes that a student reaching college age is able to decide for himself when it is necessary to attend or cut a class and the university denies this privilege only upon a student's failure to pass the course.

Varsity football coach for eleven years, during which time he never accepted a penny for his services, is the record of George Foster Sanford, the Rutgers College mentor. Except for such help as is given by his former players, Sanford does all of the coaching, and his teams are usually rated as among the best of the smaller college teams in the country. Sanford is a strong believer in football that is run on a strictly amateur basis, and at the beginning of each season, he exacts from the new men a promise never to take up professional football coaching. According to The Targum, the Rutgers College Weekly, he has two good reasons for this promise: he believes that the men should go into the sport only for the pleasure that they receive from it; and he has built up a football system for Rutgers men and he wants it to be for Rutgers only.

Co-eds at the Ohio State University prefer an extra nap rather than breakfast. Nearly one-half of the college girls do not eat breakfast, the professors of this university claim. This is especially true, they say, with the girls who do not live in the dormitories and must take their meals away from home. With them, the professors assert, a fifteen minute doze seems to be more desirable than a warm breakfast.

From the Johns Hopkins News-Letter, we learn of a freshman rule that says: "Within two weeks after the beginning of college every freshman must be actively participating in some recognized student activity." If this rule is rigidly enforced, and report has it that the Johns Hopkins sophomores list this among their "activities", student affairs at the Baltimore institution must be on an extremely high plane.

SAFETY VALVE

TO THE CO-EDS

To the Editor of the Campus:

The Debating Club has just passed, by unanimous vote, a resolution admitting girls to the organization and to have the same privileges as the men.

Great interest was manifested by the girls in this activity. The Club realized that girls should have an opening in this field because of their fitness, and admitted them, for this college is not large enough to support two debating organizations.

It has now come to light that the Girls' Literary Society plans to form debating teams of its own. The interest in debating in this college is just beginning to be aroused. It would be dangerous to flood the student body with debates—all support would be lost in consequence.

Will the girls in charge of this work think the matter over carefully and, before doing anything definite, discuss their plans freely with the Debating Club?

CADETSHIPS AT WEST POINT ARE AVAILABLE

Military Department States There are Six Vacancies in Connecticut.

Captain C. R. Crim is in receipt of a letter from the Secretary of War, announcing the opportunities for admission to the Military Academy at West Point, and requesting that the matter be given publicity in the student body.

There are vacancies for cadetships in Connecticut, Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Vermont. The law requires that each person appointed shall be an actual resident of the state from which he is appointed, and all candidates must be between the ages of 17 and 22. No one who is deformed or afflicted with any disease which would render him unfit for military service will be admitted.

Paid $780 Per Year

The pay of a cadet is $780 a year and one ration per day or the commutation thereof of $1.08 per day. The total is $1,740.20. The actual and necessary travelling expenses of candidates from their homes to the Academy are credited to their accounts after their admission. An outfit of uniform must be provided immediately after admission, which together with the travelling expenses should be deposited with the treasurer before the candidate is admitted.

The examination for entrance to the Military Academy on July 1, 1924, will be on the first Tuesday in March, 1924. Anyone interested should see Captain Crim immediately to obtain further information as to the appointments, as nominations are being sent in daily and prospective candidates should not delay in sending in their applications.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHER

With pictures of former "Campus" editors, athletic heroes, "Prexy", and multitudinous sheets of "rules for reporters" which no reporter ever reads, facing him, the Philosopher sits in the "Campus" sanctum and wishes that the blank paper on which he is trying to write were full.

More and more he sympathizes with the "columnists" of the daily newspapers, who day in and day out must grind out their column in order that the sum total of the world's supply of "wise-cracks" may be increased.

While he is thus meditating, the Philosopher wishes many things: He wishes that ten able and enthusiastic reporters would scramble themselves outside the door in a mad effort to get through the barrier and offer their services to the paper; he wishes that instead of having to turn out "Campus" copy he could be working now in order to continue to exist, or that he could find time to study; he wishes that time would cease for a while and let him catch up with the procession, which is almost out of sight, as he and his brother journalists churn the dust in order to keep the line interested as it jostles on.

He almost wishes that he could screw up courage sufficient to resign, but he knows that the work on the "Campus" means more to him than his college education—almost—and so he will continue to write.

Nevertheless, the Philosopher is thankful for one thing—he is now able to "O.K." his own copy before it goes to Willimantic, and therefore no one will be able to cross out the preceding drivel, which is absolutely necessary in order to fill up the column.

THE SENTENCES OF THE WEEK

I send you out not in the search for things that men can own, but in the search for self, for your own lives, and for the lives of other men. I charge you that you seek to find what human life can be, and that you make the search with high intelligence and sober common sense . . . We send you forth on high adventure. This college loves the life of man and it has tried to make you ready for that life.

WILLIAM KONRAD ROENTGEN
1845-1923

Born in Lennep, Prussia. Educated at Zurich. Awarded the Rumford Medal of the Royal Society in 1896 jointly with Philip Lenard for discovery of X-rays. Won the Nobel Prize in physics in 1901.

"I did not think— I investigated"

One day in 1895, Roentgen noticed that a cardboard coated with fluorescent material glowed while a nearby Pluecker tube was in action. "What did you think?" an English scientist asked him. "I did not think; I investigated," was the reply.

Roentgen covered the tube with black paper. Still the cardboard glowed. He took photographs through a pine door and discovered on them a white band corresponding to the lead beading on the door. His investigation led to the discovery of X-rays.

Roentgen's rays have proved an inestimable boon to humanity. In the hands of doctor and surgeon they are saving life and reducing suffering. In the hands of the scientist they are yielding new knowledge—even of the arrangement and structure of atoms. The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have contributed greatly to these ends by developing more powerful and efficacious X-ray tubes.

The General Electric Company manufactures everything electric—from fans to powerful locomotives, from tiny lamps to mighty power plants. Its products are used around the world.

CO-EDS TAKE TRIP TO STAFFORD SPRINGS

An interesting supplement to the Home Economics course in Textiles was given in a trip to Stafford Springs on Thursday, October 25. Accompanied by the instructor, Miss Gladys I. Scharfenstein, twenty-five co-eds went through two mills where they were shown the various processes in the manufacture of woolen materials.

In the Stafford mill the primary steps were inspected; including dyeing, combing, carding, and skeining wool. The actual looming and shrinking of the cloth was demonstrated in the Rhode Island Mill, a plant which produces an especially durable quality of worsted material.

talks and a modulator for the phonograph are being used for broadcasting, but it is expected in the near future that acoustic treatment will be provided for a room in order that the special microphone which the station has may be used. Plans are under way for a formal opening of the college station on November 16.

The following committee, appointed by President Beach, will prepare, pass upon and approve programs to be broadcasted by the station; Messrs B. W. Ellis, J. N. Fitts, I. G. Davis, Walter Stemmons, and A. G. Brundage. Next week's Campus will give further information on the plans for the formal opening, and if possible, what progress has been made on the broadcasting of programs.

organization. Plans for social events and educational features are well under way, and only the unstinted cooperation of all agricultural students can make these a reality. A subscription campaign is to be carried out in the near future.

ADVERTISE

The codfish lays a million eggs
While the helpful hen lays one,
But the codfish does not cackle
To tell what she has done.
And so we scorn the codfish coy,
But the helpful hen we prize,
Which indicates to thoughtful minds
It pays to advertise.—Adv.

was undoubtedly due to the use of electric lights in the laying pens for seven months of the year. Hollywood Farms' pen of White Leghorns from Hollywood, Wash., were the manner birds. The ten pullets in this pen laid a total of 2,237 eggs or an average of over 223 eggs each. In the last four years Hollywood hens, competing with 400 other pens, have won two firsts, a second and a fourth. During this time their four pens, consisting of 40 birds have laid 8792 eggs or an average of 220 eggs per hen, an exceedingly good record for consistently good laying.

At various times during the contest three pens of White Wyandottes from Rhode Island and England, two pens of Leghorns from Long Island and Maryland and Rhode Island Reds from Massachusetts succeeded in heading the Hollywood pen for thirty-nine laps of the race but in the last thirteen weeks there was apparently no way to stop the Western pen. The following list shows the winning breeds at Storrs for the last ten years.

Year	Breed	Score
1914	White Leghorns	2088
1915	White Wyandottes	2072
1916	White Wyandottes	2265
1917	Barred Rocks	2119
1918	Oregons	2352
1919	Barred Rocks	2022
1920	Barred Rocks	2234
1921	White Wyandottes	2234
1922	White Leghorns	2218
1923	White Leghorns	2237

The following table shows the number of birds in each of the classes, the average individual yield for the year and the general average for all four breeds that participated in the contest.

400	White Leghorns	177.4
100	White Wyandottes	169.1
240	Rhode Island Reds	168.1
260	Plymouth Rocks	154.9
1000	Average all breeds	168.5

White Leghorn No. 729 owned by A. P. Robinson of Calverton, N. Y., was the outstanding individual hen in the contest. She laid 283 eggs in the fifty-two weeks of the race. The second best hen in the contest was Barred Rock No. 87 owned by Edgar Stoughton from Wapping, Conn. Her record of 274 eggs makes her also the best Connecticut hen. In the Wyandotte class No. 272 from Bridgeton, R. I., was first with a score of 247 eggs and in the Rhode Island Red section No. 513 finished at the top with a record of 266 eggs. The following is a list of the eleven best pens in the order of their production.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED AT VARSITY CLUB DANCE*"HONEY BOYS" TO PLAY"

Program of Twelve Numbers and two Extras.—Large Advance Sale of Tickets.

Valdemar Johnson, chairman of the Varsity Club Dance committee, announced today that plans for the first fall dance, which is to be held tonight after the City College of New York football game, have been completed and all is in readiness for the best dance that the Connecticut Varsity Club ever put on.

A large alumni return is expected for today and everything has been done to give them a dance that will properly round out a big day. For music, Milton Katz's "Honey Boys" exponents of symphonic jazz, have been secured. Katz, a former member of the class of 1923, is well known on the hill and his many friends will be interested to know that his orchestra is meeting with success in all parts of Connecticut. The committee feels it has been fortunate in securing the "Honey Boys", as contracts with the City Club of New Haven, and the Vernon Country Club of the same city, have made it extremely difficult for them to accept outside engagements.

Those of the alumni who wish to stay on the Hill tonight will be able to find accommodations in the fraternity houses or the dormitories, and as usual, Holcomb Hall is open to the women.

Programs for the dance are selling for $1.50 per couple, and they may be obtained at the Book Store.

The dance program includes twelve numbers with two extras, as follows:

- 1 No, No, Nora
 - 2 Blue Hoosier Blues
 - 3 Nobody knows but pillow and me
 - 4 Great White Way Blues
 - 5 Sobben Blues
 - 6 When You Walked out
Intermission
 - 7 I Love You
 - 8 My Sweetie Went Away
 - 9 Queen of the Orient
 - 10 Tell Me a Story
 - 11 Sitting in the Corner
 - 12 Farewell Blues
- Extras
- 1 Sunkist Rose
 - 3 I Cried for You

A drive is now on at Lehigh University for a four million dollar endowment. The income from this endowment will permit a moderate increase in salaries, an increase in faculty personnel, and general administrative expenses.

PLANS BEING ARRANGED FOR RHODE ISLAND TRIP

SPECIAL TRAIN PROBABLE

Committee Hopes to Present Complete Plans in Near Future.—Band to be Secured for Aggie Rooters.

The committee in charge of the trip to Kingston on the date of the Aggie-Rhody football classis, two weeks from today, has its plans nearing completion for the big event.

A tentative schedule for the "Connecticut Special" and fare quotations have been secured from the Central Vermont Railroad, and those in charge are only awaiting confirmation of these before starting the drive for passengers. The figures named by the road officials are from two hundred to three hundred so that number will be necessary in order to secure the special rates for the tour. With everything taken into consideration it is thought that all charges for the trip including fares, meals and admission to the game will not exceed five dollars, which will make the price for the day well within the reach of everyone.

At a mass meeting to be held in the near future the committee will present plans for having a band on the Aggie side of the field and will also make public all other announcements which pertain to the trip.

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR FOOTBALL HOP PLAY

"Clarence" to be Presented by Dramatic Club on Night Following the Dance.—Many Prominent in Aggie Dramatics to be in Cast.

As the result of try-outs held on Thursday the following parts have been assigned by the Dramatic Club for the play which is to be given on the night following the Football Hop:

the goal. Score: Norwich 13, Aggies 0.

Rosenthal, the star end-runner of the Norwich team, failed to get off any runs against the Aggies, many times being driven back for heavy losses. Both Rosenthal and Captain Bradley made sweeping end runs time after time when they failed to get the ball back to the line of scrimmage.

MISS M. HUTTON TO HEAD NEW GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM

Two Challenges from Other Colleges
Already Accepted.—Military Department Will Coach Team.

As the result of a challenge from the Girls' Rifle Club of the University of Maine, action was taken at a recent meeting of the old members of the Girls' Rifle Club at Connecticut to re-organize last year's team. The challenge was for a match to take place during the week ending November 17.

Owing to a late start last year the Connecticut team was unable to accept challenges from other colleges. Officers of this year's club will be a captain and a manager. Miss Margaret Hutton was elected captain and Miss Dorothy Stellenwerf elected manager and secretary. The thirteen old members who renewed their membership start practice this week in order to be ready for the University of Maine meet. Twenty-eight new members have already joined this year's club, but will not begin practice until later. A challenge from the University of Nebraska has already been accepted for the week ending January 12. The Connecticut Club will be under the direction of and coached by the Military Department.

MISS HAZEL PIERPONT HEADS GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Three Entertainments to be Given
During Coming Year.

At a meeting of the Girls' Glee Club held last Tuesday, officers were elected and plans considered for the year. Miss Hazel Pierpont was unanimously re-elected president. The other officers are Miss Pauline Graf, vice-president; Miss Margaret Hutton, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Charlotte Wolley, librarian. Mrs. M. J. Farrell will continue as director.

The Glee Club hopes to put on three big entertainments: an informal concert, a musical review, and a part of the Maypole Carnival. The musical review will be something new for the girls at Storrs, and there may be some original talent displayed in it. At present there are about thirty members in the club, and they have begun work on new music.

From the Springfield Student we learn that the faculty of that college has moved to stop the Cane Rush and all other forms of class scraps. The greatest objection to such affairs, as seen by the Springfield faculty, lies in the fact that the clothes of the participants are badly torn, the infirmary is filled to overflowing, and many classes are missed.
